BANKS Vs. TRUST COMPANIES. The business of a bank and that of a trust company is entirely separate and distinct. siness men who run an active account and who desire occasional discounts should deposit their money in a bank.

FINANCIAL

Those with inactive accounts, which embraces men who have money which they do not wish to use, professional men carrying a balance, clerks and others who have money over and above their neessary expenses - these should deposit with a trust company and receive inrest upon their money. Treasurers of zations, &c., should also deposit their money with a trust company and receive interest thereon. Such deposits are subject to check at all times.

FRIENDS OF DEMOCRACY AND CITIcratic zens who desire the election of the democratic candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the republic.—We have entered on the last month of the campaign. Permit the understand to remind you, each and all, that while many have generously responded in support of the democratic cause, there are multitudes who undoubtedly desire its triumph and would hall such triumph as a boon to all classes of the people, but who have as yet rendered no add toward its accomplishmen. It is believed that a little reflection will convince all such persons that a presidential campaign cannot be carried on without involving a legitimate and heavy burden of expense and that it is only just that this burden should be borne, not by a single class, but by all the friends and well-wishers of our cause.

The following letter, received by John Kloehr. the man who has the credit of killing three of the Dalton gang, shows at least that all of the gang is not dead:

ARKANSAS CITY, October, 1892.—JOHN KLOEHR:
Dear sir: I take the time tell you and the cittiens of Coffeyville that all of the gang ain't dead yet by a dight and don't you forget it. I would have given all I ever made to have been there on the 5th. There are in some day. That day, October 5, we were down in the Chickasaw nation, and we did not know it was coming off so soon. We thought it was to be November 5, and we shall have revenue for your killing of Bob and we shall have revenue for your killing of Bob and notorious Dalton gang of outlaws, who mot their death at Coffeyville on the 5th, had organized and were moving upon Coffeyville with the avowed purpose of avenging the death of the Daltons.

Since the Dalton affair many persons have been in Coffeyville and have openly condemned the manner in which this notorious gang use its death and several sympathisers have been arrested and confined in jail.

As soon as the news of the contemplated invasion of Coffeyville was made public in this city a large pose of men was at once armed and ready to embark on a special train for Coffeyville, when the news reached this city that there was no likelihood of any trouble, and that in case of any invasion the people of Coffeyville were prepared to cope with the invaders. The town of Coffeyville has been a pandemonium of excitement, yet no braver set of men have shouldered a gun than the gallant and fearless citizens of this Kapass town.

There is every reason to believe from the actions of the same men who have visited Coffeyville that if Emmett Palton recovers come steps will be taken by his friends to litherstehim. The people of Coffeyville will see to it that he gets his just deserts, even if they again have to resort to arms.

Republican League of this city.

The judge declines to talk on the subject, but it is the universal impression that his action means that he will support the democratic nominees. The judge has been at variance with the republican leaders on the disputed state election, believing that three of the democratic candidates kept out of office were elected. In the court contention over the election the judge has been one of the counsel for the democrats. It is known also that the judge has been losing sympathy with his party on the tariff and that he favors the local constitutional reform issue advanced by the democrats.

DISPUTE OVER A ROADWAY.
